SUCCESS ATTENDS AUXILIARY MEETING AT NEWPORT

N. E. Division of Locomotive Auxiliary Hold Important Sessions

The 150 or more delegates to the union fall meeting of the New England Division of the Grand International of Locomotive Engineers held two important meetings during the forenoon and afternoon of Thursday at their rooms in I. O. O. F. hall.

The divisions represented were No. 49, Concord with 11 delegates; No. 61, Springfield, Mass., 13; No. 99, Boston, 22; No. 114, St. Albans, 15; No. 118, Providence, R. I., 9; No. 155, Nashua, 6; No. 224, Worcester, 5; No. 230, Bangor, 4; No. 259, Portland, 20; No. 281, Greenfield, 12; No. 361, Woodsville, 19; No. 365, Allston, 2; No. 389, Concord, 2; No. 475, Waterville, 4; Passumpsic Division, No. 81 of Newport had 15 present.

The visiting ladies were very appreciative of the many courtesies shown them during their stay in our city and of the efforts made by the local division which numbers only 10 members, to entertain and care for so large a crowd, which they did so successfully.

Everything moved with the greatest precision. Mrs. Will Davis, chairman of the welfare committee, was a busy woman but managed to meet all incoming trains and direct the delegates to the places assigned to them. Mrs. David Addison, chairman of the dinner committee, provided through the St. Mark's Ladies' Guild two very substantial and appetizing meals served in the I. O. O. F. dining rooms, and to which all seemed to do ample justice. One lady remarked that she was simply unable to perform her part at the meeting as she was "too full," but of course this could only mean that she had had a good dinner.

The ladies were out for a good time and had it. They were a jolly and good looking lot.

Mrs. J. Frank Cooke of Concord, 1st Assistant Grand Vice President of the New England Division of the G. I. A. of B. of L. E., was present, but several other grand officers who were scheduled to attend, were unable to do so.

Portland Division No. 255, exemplified the burial service and draping of the charter.

The Penny March was also exemplified by the Portland delegation.

OFFICERS CAPTURE LIQUOR SMUGGLERS NEAR NEWPORT

Two Littleton, N. H., Men Have 201 Quarts In Car—Held for Hearing

After trailing a Hudson Super Six automobile which was traveling at a fast clip, for some distance along the Boche Road in the direction of Newport, Customs Inspector in Charge, H. A. Rice, together with three of his assistant inspectors, H. T. Locklin, R. F. Hawley and G. M. Wright of the Twenty Line office, finally captured the machine which was attempting to smuggle 17 cases, containing 204 quarts of whiskey into the United States. This is one of the largest seizures of liquor effected on the border in some time. Two men, Edwin Cardinal and G. W. Rolfe of Littleton, N. H., who were in the machine, were taken into custody and brought to Newport.

The pair were given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Walker H. Cleary upon their arrival in Newport and after waiting examination were held under bond for appearance before the United States court at Rutland. Cardinal's bail was fixed at $250, while Rolfe's was held under $750 bonds. Bail was furnished by Gerald Hunt of Dorchester Line and the men were released. Cardinal drove the machine and claimed to be the owner of it.

The machine is believed to have been one of the several smuggling cars which had split up and taken different trails from Canada into the states. The other machines apparently made their trip to the states without interruption as no further reports of captures have been reported by the customs authorities.

Later his other leg, badly mangled, was also removed at a hospital. He and the conductor, who received a fractured skull, were in a serious condition today. The accident happened when the brakes failed to function on a steep hill on Amsterdam avenue. CONVENTION OF TEACHERS' ASS'N HAS BUSY SESSION

Program Includes Many Conferences, Addresses and Two Banquets

BURLINGTON, Oct. 8.—An extensive program of work was taken up at the second day's session of the Vermont State Teachers' Association, which is holding its annual convention in this city. Two banquets were held for the delegates, two important addresses were delivered and many conferences were held.

A lively session of the State Headmasters Club was held and a determined movement against the college examination board was developed. Principal J. E. Colburn of the high school here leading the discussion. In many instances, he said, pupils of the Burlington high school had been graduated with high honors but had fallen down when it came to passing the examination of the college examination board. He gave instances of cases, where the pupils were not even informed of the subject they had failed in.

During the last year no pupil of the Rutland or Burlington high schools were able to get into colleges which required this class of examination without conditions. It was said that 80 per cent of the pupils who take this examination do not pass. Investigation has developed that there has been discrimination against the pupils of the public schools.

The headmasters voted to investigate the conditions alleged and if it is found that discrimination against public school pupils exists they will influence graduates of Vermont high schools to enter colleges that do not require the conditions of the entrance examination board.

The union superintendents held a meeting at which it was voted that the annual convention of the association was too long and should return to the former two day session, from Thursday noon to Saturday in order to avoid interruptions in the schools.

At the meeting of the Schoolmasters' Club in the evening, Hugh S. McGill, field secretary of the American board of education read a letter from Senator Warren G. Harding in which the presidential candidate favored the Smith-Towner bill which would create a department of education and a secretary of education in the president's cabinet.

These district meetings were instituted last year for the purpose of giving the individual clubs a better chance than the Federation meeting affords to come in close touch with each other for the discussion of problems and exchange of ideas. They cannot fail to lend fresh enthusiasm and impetus to club work.
